OUTCOME BASED EDUCATION (OBE)

Education forms the back bone of any country. System of Education reveals the quality. As we know India has a population that is the youngest in world and by 2020 we will have youngsters in the age of 21-24 who will be at the start of their career, looking for good opportunities. But, in recent years in our country we have seen a sharp decline in the employability of students graduating from technical education, which proves to be a potential threat for a nation that has youngest population.

Lot of initiatives that were taken to improve that quality of students, but those gave little or no improvement. Based on lot of analysis Government identified that the students lacked the potential skills and knowledge that are required for employability or for pursuing higher education.

To bring improvement in the quality of education Indian Government signed and became a permanent member of the “WASHINGTON ACCORD” on 13th June 2014, and started bringing reform under the initiative “OUTCOME BASED EDUCATION”.

Understanding this impact and having extreme concerns over the quality of students graduating and also the quality of graduates that we must produce for our nation, we at our institution unanimously decided to follow the OUTCOME BASED EDUCATION, to produce graduates who will bring up the nation and who will shoulder great responsibilities in the near future.

OBE as the name indicates concentrates on the improvement of the “outcomes or the required skills and knowledge” that a sudden must have at the time of graduating. We at our institution and in turn in our school take serious concern in attaining the attributes defined globally for the graduates. Each program and the courses in a program are decided and also designed to give specific skills required to enhance the quality.

Therefore, in our institution various skill development activities initiated by our Principal Dr.E.Kamalanaban are being conducted in a way to aid the cause of improvement.

And one among that is the Group Learning or Collaborative learning. In the Classroom, Often, collaborative learning is used as an umbrella term for a variety of approaches in education that involve joint intellectual effort by students or students and faculty members by engaging individuals in interdependent learning activities.

It is a situation in which two or more students learn or attempt to learn something together. Unlike individual learning, students engaged in collaborative learning capitalize on one another's resources and skills (asking one another for information, evaluating one another's ideas, monitoring one another's work, etc.).

We are extremely grateful to you and wish to place on record your efforts in organizing a blood donation Camp with excellent arrangements at Auditorium, Vel Tech College, Chennai.

We were able to collect 175units, which are being issued to needy patients who will require transfusions to save their lives or recover from illness. We thank all the donors for their selfless gift of Blood, which will save lives of many in the city of Chennai.

We profusely thank you, the Donors and also Mr. T.V.B. Babu, NSS Programme Officer for the excellent Cooperation, they have created to motivate the donors. These blood units will be separated into various components and subjected to many lab tests before they are issued to needy person.

We are sure you would know that there is a national shortage of blood and only half the required units are donated by voluntary donors. Therefore we request you to kindly motivate people to donate once in every three months. We also look forward that you would conduct camps regularly in the future at quarterly intervals.

The society will owe you a great deal for every donation. Any one between 18 and 65 can be motivated to donate blood. We look forward for your continued association with Lions Blood Bank and thank you once again for the precious gift you have given to society.

Enclosed are the Blood Group ID Cards, which may be used by the donors to track the donation details at any point of time at our blood bank. The cards may kindly be distributed to the respective blood donors.

With Warm Regards
For Lions Blood Bank & Research Foundation
